Three Year Old Class

April 2015

Springtime is here and with it we are closing in on the end of our school year. It is exciting to watch the progress and growth that the children have experienced during this school year.

BARNEY THE
WORM

Listening comprehension skills keep improving! Barney the Bookworm has grown to an enormous length and the children are hopeful Barney will grow around the room by the end of school.

April is "Keep America Beautiful" month. Our class will explore the natural wonders of our country and learn various ways each one of us can help keep America beautiful. Look for our Earth Day class artwork which will be coming home.

Our religion series will continue through the end of the school year. The children have gained an appreciation of God's place in their lives.

We continue to focus on numeral recognition (0 through 10) and the assignment of each value. Addition and subtraction processes have been introduced through our manipulatives.

On a personal note, we would like to thank all of the parents for their continued involvement and support. Our school year has been wonderful and it is such a pleasure sharing time with your children.
